

In the late years let them not speak of violets found by the melting snows
let them not mock at the guttering of drowsy faculties.
This rigid shrunken face is a yellowed page fast in heresy
incredulous of vain renewals and revolutions.
Then let the bawdy spring come with beholden obeisance not flaunting his palsy.